Twenty-Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time

October 18, 2020

- The charitable portion of our tithes this weekend will go to the collection for World Mission Sunday. This is a collection of the US Bishops in support of evangelization efforts around the world.
- The flowers in the sanctuary are in memory of Richard Goodnuff. May he rest in peace.
- This weekend, the Bishop sent out a message reminding everyone that the Mass dispensation is still in effect; however, if someone is able to come to church (or do their regular duties in society), they should come and participate in Mass. This is a moral summons to all the faithful. God knows if this exhortation applies to you. Be sure to come to Mass, if you are able.
- This Wednesday our Bible Study continues. We'll be discussing the Giants of Old in Genesis 6.
- Please remember that we have Healing Masses at 11:00 AM on every Saturday of October. The Anointing of the Sick is available at all these Masses.
- Please be sure to use the "charlestandiocese" email addresses for communication with staff. We don't use any other email addresses. We don't want to lose any of your correspondences to us!
